Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

- (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 23. Claims 11, 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US Patent No. 6,757,479 by Niikawa in view of US Patent No. 7,016,595 by Ishino et al.
- 24. Regarding claim 11, Niikawa discloses digital camera, video camera but Nikawa fails to disclose audio recorder/player.

Ishino discloses the recorder/playback device is an audio recorder/player (Col. 4 line 30-35, Col. 10 line 15-19).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to modify the proposed combination of Niidawa system to include a audio recorder/player, as taught by Matsumoto, for recording audio with image signal so it can be played back later.

Art Unit: 2621

25. Regarding claim 13, Niikawa discloses digital camera, video camera but Nikawa fails to disclose television.

Ishino discloses the recorder/playback device is television (Col. 4 line 47-54).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to modify the proposed combination of Niidawa system to include a television, as taught by Matsumoto, for the advantage of providing a display screen for recording or playback image to the user
